This looks good to me. Does this allow me to record my out-going call incl my power point presentations; or is it limited to in-coming calls? I want to pre-record my power point presentation for use in later Teams calls. Can this be done?

Our software can record any type in-coming and out-going calls(include video and audio). It couldn't record your power point presentation if you share the screen(your power point presentation) to your party. It can only record your audio.

But your party can record your audio and your power point presentation.

Thanks!
